The rise and fall of American malls.

Why have American malls evolved from “The place to be” to a place to flee?

This market is taken by all snow. Shops to close in USA. In pairs, exchange your point of view about malls. What do you think about abandoned shopping malls?

Malls are appreciated because they offer a large choice of products to choose from when you are shopping. They are a great place to meet friends and to spend time with them. It's a shame shopping malls are abandoned because I could have shopped there.
